Message from the Chair and Chief Executive

E ngā reo, e ngā mana, e ngā kārangaranga maha, tēnei ka mihi āke nei i runga i tēnei rīpoata o tau 2018.

The Halberg Foundation launched a new strategic direction in 2017 with three key priorities across New Zealand; Ngā Tāngata / People, Ngā Kaupapa / Programmes and Ā Tātou Hoa / Partners.

This year we have continued the commitment to our strategy with a focus on collaboration, education and measureable outcomes.

Our strategy and outcomes reflect Sport New Zealand's commitment to providing quality opportunities for school age children, with a focus on creating a lifelong connection to sport and active recreation. We recognise the pace of change around us, which coupled with increasing technological advances, will see shifts in the sector and increased adaptability required in the years to come.

Our Whakataukī - He waka eke noa, mō Aotearoa whānui - acknowledges that all New Zealanders play a role in moving the waka in the same direction. This proverb underscores our desire to work alongside other organisations and people to achieve our vision. We were particularly delighted that the Minister of Sport and Recreation, Grant Robertson, has confirmed that strengthening the long-term opportunities for disabled people is one of his four key priorities.

As we review the year reflecting on the outcomes represented through this report and the stories of the many people we have supported, it's clear that the Foundation's role is pivotal and the benefits of our work ie. health, social, inclusion, confidence, choice, leadership, a sense of belonging - are enriching the lives of many young people and working towards to achieving our vision of 'An Inclusive New Zealand'.

Ngā Tāngata - People

Ensuring physically disabled young people have quality opportunities to participate in sport and recreation continues to be the core focus of our work. Our Adviser network of staff based throughout New Zealand continues to assist schools, sports clubs and local, regional or national organisations to ensure they have the skills and training to provide inclusive events and programmes. The Advisers are focused on supporting young people and their families so they can access the benefits of physical activity, sport and recreation.

The Foundation values the support of Her Excellency, The Rt Hon. Dame Patsy Reddy GNZM QSO, Governor General of New Zealand as the Patron of the Foundation along with His Excellency Sir David Gascoigne. We were honoured to have Their Excellencies attend the 2017 Halberg Games, and the 55th Halberg Awards where Her Excellency presented the supreme Halberg Award.

The Halberg Youth Council has grown in confidence and leadership over the past year. The group has integrated into our programmes - including key roles during the Halberg Awards. We value the Council's insight and the significant influence they can have in shaping our future strategy and ensuring its relevancy. We saw first-hand evidence of this when the group visited Wellington and met with Ministers Sepuloni and Henare, Children's Commissioner, Judge Andrew Becroft, and Disability Commissioner, Paula Tesoriero. The experiences they shared provided insight and perspective and led to them being included in the NCEA and Tomorrow's Schools Reviews.

The Halberg Foundation was honoured to receive the NZ Youth Award for Outstanding Contribution to Youth which was accepted by the Halberg Youth Council during a Parliamentary function hosted by Hon Peeni Henare.

At a Board level we are committed to recognising diversity throughout the organisation. We farewelled Michael Sidey who is focussing on his role as Chair of the Endowment Fund whilst he also remains an Otago Trustee. Paula Tesoriero departed when she took up her new role as the Disability Commissioner and Shelley Campbell moved to the Waikato for a new position as Chief Executive of the Cancer Society for the Waikato Bay of Plenty region. We thank them for the impact they made during their time on the Board and are pleased that both Paula and Shelley stay connected to the Foundation as Life Trustees.

We were delighted to welcome two new Board members to our family. Raylene Bates - an Otago Trustee and Para athletics coach who provides a depth of experience in community and high performance sport. Meg Matthews - an experienced Director from Tasman also joined us to round out our Boardroom skills with a background in marketing, human resources and finance.

We recently welcomed Lucinda Searchfield in the position of People and Engagement Manager which plays a pivotal role in working alongside the Adviser team.

Ngā Kaupapa - Programmes

Our diverse suite of programmes is continually updated to ensure we are providing quality experiences, and the ability to connect locally, regionally and nationally.

Our inclusion training course (Halberg NET) has continued to be a focus for the Foundation. Delivered by our Advisers, the programme provides practical training on adapting and modifying physical activity to include all participants. 1,353 people completed the course over the year and we were delighted to receive funding from the Joyce Fisher Charitable Trust to provide our Advisers further training in the coming year.

The Foundation is committed to embracing diversity and recognising the rich heritage of Tikanga Māori and the associated benefits – by providing specific programmes and increasing our cultural capability. Our programmes are evolving under the guidance of Kerrie Blackmoore as our Kaiārahi Kaupapa Māori.

This year, thanks to the support of the Ministry of Youth Development and Aktive, we have started on a journey with a new initiative piloted in South Auckland – a Manaakitanga programme which provides a group of secondary school students with training and leadership sessions to support the Foundation's programmes.

The Foundation's recreation programme has been focussed on a mobile app – created in collaboration with the Department of Conservation (DOC) and Be.Accessible, to capture specific and detailed information on the accessibility of walkways, waterways and cycleways (tracks). Our Lead Adviser Bridget Meyer, has been driving this programme with the review of locations in Dunedin and Taranaki.

The Halberg Games was held at a new venue, King's College in Auckland, for the first time in October 2017. Lead Adviser John Sigurdsson, manages the Games which continue to provide a pathway into sport – at the grass roots or competitive pathway and it's encouraging to see the returning and new athletes grow year on year. We are grateful to the many organisations that support the event and for the collaboration with the Parafed network to assist the athletes participating at the event. We welcomed Invacare as Halberg Games partner this year. Congratulations to Kirstie Fairhurst from Otago who claimed the top honours – the Sir Murray Halberg Cup.

The Foundation collaborated with Water Safety New Zealand and Swimming New Zealand to introduce a pilot project providing water safety skills to physically disabled young people and their parents/caregivers with support from the Flight Centre Foundation.

The Activity Fund continues to provide essential support for young people by reducing the financial barriers of participation. Our heartfelt thanks to the Eagles Golfing Society, whose support is due to reach the $5 million milestone at the end of 2018.

Ā Tātou Hoa - Partners

The Foundation is incredibly grateful for the continued support of our loyal partners, Sport NZ, Southern Trust, Buddle Findlay, Joyce Fisher Charitable Trust, Eagles Golfing Society, David Levene Foundation, Sky TV, Flight Centre Foundation, NZ Communities Trust, Kia, Spark Arena, Villa Maria and the Lion Foundation who provide crucial funding and support for our important work throughout the country.

It is heartening to see organisations valuing the vision of Sir Murray by their generosity and we acknowledge that financial sustainability and a diversified funding portfolio is fundamental for any charity.

Significant outcomes can be reached by collaborating with other sector organisations in a coordinated approach. At a national level we have enjoyed working alongside Paralympics New Zealand, NSOs, NDSOs, Ministry of Youth Development, Ministry of Education, Children's and Human Rights Commissions, Be.Accessible, DOC and disability organisations. While regional connections have included the RSTs, Parafeds, sports clubs, community organisation and schools to provide wide ranging opportunities for young people.

We were pleased to welcome ISPS Handa as the title partner of the ISPS Handa Halberg Awards and support of our community programmes. We appreciate the support of Midori Miyazaki and Sir John Key which will also involve the introduction of a new talent scholarship to give physically disabled young athletes financial assistance to attend their first international sporting event.

The Halberg Awards continues to be the major fundraising activity for the Foundation as well as a pinnacle event on the nation's sporting calendar. The Awards in February also provided a great opportunity to celebrate the 55th anniversary of the Foundation and showcase our work during the ceremony broadcast live on Sky TV. Our congratulations to Emirates Team New Zealand for claiming the supreme trophy.

We are grateful for the continued support of our Trustee network around the country who assist with funding and raising awareness for the Foundation and connecting with local communities.

Our thanks also to the Halberg Ambassadors who have provided essential support to the Foundation through supporting our events and fundraising activities.

We acknowledge Sport New Zealand for the work that has been done in tandem with Lumin Associates on the NZ Disability Review Blueprint which has involved a wide range of participants from those in both the sporting and disability sectors. We await the outcome of this, which will be published later in the year.

The impact of the Board, Management and staff over the past year is evident through this report. We thank them for their continued commitment and dedication to driving the vision and mission of the Foundation.

The Halberg Advisers deliver Halberg NET – an inclusion training course on adapting physical activity to include all New Zealanders in mainstream activities, events and programmes.

The aim of the course is to increase the knowledge and skills of teachers and sport deliverers to give them the confidence and resources to deliver quality sporting opportunities to all.

Halberg NET Success Stories

BIRCHWOOD SCHOOL, NELSON

Twelve staff from Birchwood School completed a Halberg NET course so they could support their physically disabled students during physical activities.

The course was delivered by Halberg Senior Adviser Justin Muschamp, who said the staff were very enthusiastic, keen to participate in the physical activities and engaged in meaningful conversation around inclusion.

Principal Chris Herrick, said the training gave them more empathy for students who can have a hard time with some of the physical activities.

“We had fun working with Justin on the NET course and appreciate the greater awareness towards being inclusive and ensuring maximum engagement in physical activity.”

“It gave us some key ideas to consider and practical applications. We felt more informed on how to consider all students needs in sports events and had the opportunity to experience what a disability would feel like whilst engaging in a practical activity.”

CARMEL COLLEGE, AUCKLAND

Twenty one staff from Carmel College asked the Halberg Foundation to facilitate a NET Inclusion Training course to promote better inclusion for all students during Physical Education.

Halberg Adviser Rhys Edwards, ran the course and found the staff were very receptive to the new inclusive strategies and highly engaged in the two sessions.

Teacher aide Rosemary Shanks said the NET gave teachers and support staff the opportunity to consider what adapting a PE programme to promote inclusion would look like.

ST CLAIR SCHOOL, DUNEDIN

St Clair School hosted 120 Teacher aides for a Halberg NET as part of a professional development day so they could gain a better understanding of how to modify and adapt their skill set to accommodate children of all abilities.

The NET was facilitated by Halberg Lead Adviser Bridget Meyer, who was pleased with the high energy and enthusiasm from the participants. Three Halberg Youth Council members, Kiran Dixon, Jacob Phillips and Victoria Baldwin, supported Bridget at the session and emphasised the importance of the role of a teacher aides.

Principal Jen Rodger, said the staff who attended the workshop found it eye opening to hear from the perspective of young people who have been through the education system with a disability of some description.

HILLCREST HIGH SCHOOL

Twenty three teachers from Hillcrest High School completed a Halberg NET course, in order to make their physical education lessons more inclusive.

The school has a Physical Assistance Centre (PAC) for students with physical disabilities, but their goal of their Halberg NET Inclusion Training was to integrate physically disabled students into the mainstream physical education programme.

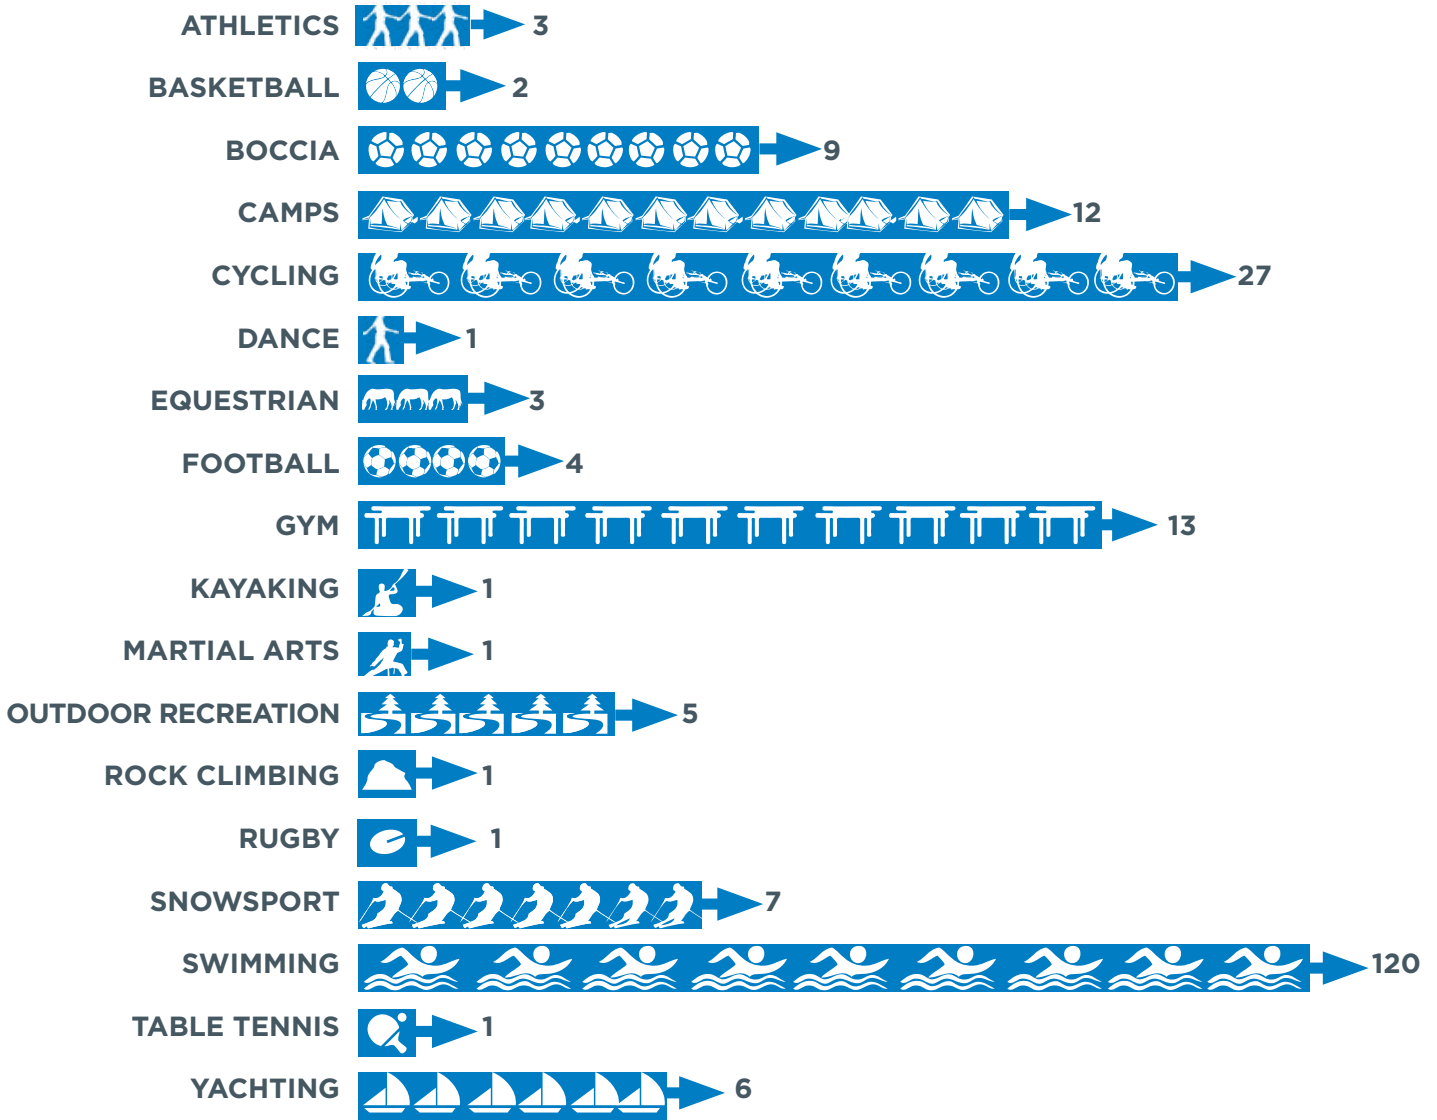

The course was delivered by Halberg Senior Adviser Dave MacCalman. He provided practical applications and action plans for the PE staff to use, to make their lesson planning and practice as inclusive as possible.

Head of Department of PAC at Hillcrest High School, Julie-Anne Richardson, found great value in the training.

“Working through the NET training is very worthwhile. We learned that by everyone pooling their ideas, the student’s needs are better catered for.”

The Halberg Activity Fund provides grants to physically disabled young people (21 years and under) to help overcome the financial barriers that prevent them from participating in sport and recreation. These grants help pay for sports equipment, lessons and assistance at school camps. 217 grants were distributed over the past year. The Activity Fund is supported by the Eagles Golfing Society of New Zealand.

JAKE RYAN, NEW PLYMOUTH

Jake Ryan from Bell Block, New Plymouth is now able to participate fully in school PE lessons thanks to a sports wheelchair received through the Halberg Activity Fund.

The 16 year old first connected with the Halberg Foundation at a disability sport expo in New Plymouth in 2010. Halberg Lead Adviser John Sigurdsson, has kept in touch with the family ever since.

The sports wheelchair has broadened Jake's sporting opportunities and he can now attend wheelchair basketball training sessions with Parafed Taranaki.

Halberg Activity Fund recipients

ELLA-BRENTON RULE, HASTINGS

Ella has a dream to represent New Zealand in skiing - a passion she found thanks to a Halberg Activity Fund grant.

The 11 year old Hastings local has cerebral palsy, which causes physical limitations on her movement and balance.

Ella began taking adaptive skiing lessons at Mt Ruapehu in August 2017 with support from the Halberg Foundation and quickly found there was no limit to her skiing ability.

Mum Alison says "It was difficult finding a suitable sport for Ella, but skiing has been amazing. For her confidence, Ella needs to spend as much time as possible skiing and Halberg is helping us to achieve this."

"I have never been good at anything, but adaptive skiing has made me feel like, for once, I'm at the same level or better than other people."

CHARN LEE-TUAFALÉ, AUCKLAND

Seven year old Charn Lee-Tuafale always wanted to learn to swim and thanks to the Halberg Activity Fund was able to attend one on one swimming lessons.

The West Auckland local has Cerebral Palsy which affects his balance, co-ordination and dexterity. Since starting swimming lessons, Charn's dad Aaron has seen his confidence grow in the water.

Aaron and his wife were also very appreciative of the support initiatives for Charn's physical development provided by Halberg Adviser James Glen.

"We've seen Charn's confidence and independence in the water grow from the swimming lessons. He doesn't rely on his parents or his siblings for support."

NATHAN AND ALEX LANG, CHRISTCHURCH

Brother's Nathan and Alex from Hei Hei in Christchurch can now enjoy bike rides with their mates thanks to specialised bikes they received through the Halberg Activity Fund.

Thirteen year old Nathan has Fibrodysplasia so has a limited ability to move his neck and shoulders and Alex has Achondroplasia which is a type of dwarfism.

The Halberg Activity Fund helped grant a recumbent trike for Nathan and a trike for Alex, which has done wonders for their independence as they are both able to hang out with their friends and ride to and from school.

Dad David Lang said without the funding the trikes would have been impossible.

"Now that they have their bikes they are able to ride with their friends and want to be outside riding rather staying inside in front of the television."

The Halberg Youth Council has gone from strength to strength over the last year, promoting and supporting the Halberg Foundation, representing the voice of their peers and growing their leadership capability.

The 10 young leaders from around New Zealand have significantly contributed to the Halberg Foundation including working with their local Advisers, taking active roles at the 2017 Halberg Games, the 55th Halberg Awards and representing the Foundation with confidence and growing self-assurance meeting Ministers and Commissioners at the Wellington Hui.

We look forward to supporting the ongoing development of this amazing group of young leaders and can't wait to see where their passion and commitment to a fully inclusive Aotearoa takes them and us next.

"I thoroughly enjoyed attending and participating in the 2017 Halberg Games. These games were a highlight for me as they were an amazing opportunity to see everyone enjoy themselves while participating in the different activities over the weekend. I especially enjoyed encouraging and motivating kids to give things a go." Anna Steven

"This past year on the Youth Council has brought some exciting new opportunities, the most memorable was definitely participating in the Halberg Outward Bound Activate course - designed specifically for young people with disabilities. Pushing myself with my own disability while learning how to support others with their disabilities was a big thing I took from it that I treasure. I also valued the opportunity to go down to Wellington to give a disability perspective to the Ministry of Education's NCEA review." Katjoesja Buissink

"This year, as a member of the Youth Council, I have had an outstanding time being able to represent the voice of my peers, and having the ability to go to so many amazing events and meeting amazing people, such as being having the ability to attend the prestigious Halberg Awards ceremony." Samuel Morgan

"Throughout the past year the Youth Council has been involved in some amazing opportunities, however the one that I enjoyed the most was the Halberg Games. There is nothing more satisfying than watching the younger generation of disabled athletes participating in a range of sports and having fun." Jacob Phillips

"My highlight of the year was the Wellington Hui and the NZ Youth Awards. It was inspiring to meet with so many people and to discuss their passions and potential future involvement with Halberg. The night at the NZ Youth Awards was lovely and I was left in awe of the achievements of many young New Zealanders. It was also an absolute privilege to be recognised alongside them. I left Wellington excited for what the future may hold for us as a Council." Jacquie Ruth

"Over the past year the Youth Council have been lucky enough to participate at heaps of amazing events. My personal favourite was attending and being involved in the 55th Halberg Awards. Being in the same room as so many well-known athletes and coaches was a very inspiring moment for me." Kate McKelvie

"The privilege of being part of the Halberg Youth Council has been my highlight of the year. Having the opportunity to help New Zealand take a step closer to being totally inclusive is something that is truly humbling. To see the beginnings of a shift in thinking as we spoke to organisations at our Wellington Hui and to see the Halberg Awards showcasing inclusion more than ever is an assurance that, together, we are heading in the right direction." Kiran Dixon

"I was honoured to have been asked to be part of the Halberg Council this year. It has been a great experience, one of encouragement, support and celebrations of many achievements by our young people. I've been encouraged to be a voice, recognise opportunities and see how we can help those who seek to be involved and included. The meetings gave us the opportunity to discuss issues and brainstorm ideas of future events for the younger generation and see what other opportunities could be available for them to participate in. Attending the Halberg Awards was a major highlight. It made me feel included, disregarding any disability I may have. It was a great night of celebrations and everyone was so approachable. What a night to remember!" Tristan-Perry (TP) Moananu

"It's been a privilege being part of the Halberg Youth Council - a year with more amazing opportunities and conversations with influential people. It was great to have played a part at the Halberg Awards, performing the opening karakia and further promoting the mahi of the Council. Also our Wellington meetings with the Human Rights Commissioner and MPs where we shared our perspectives on disability in the hope of furthering the opportunities for rangatahi with disabilities. My highlight was addressing the Kaiāwhina of the Halberg Manaakitanga project. With all this, and more exciting projects in the pipeline, it is awesome to know our mahi has only just begun, and we are only growing in strength and impact. I can't wait to continue playing my part in this success." Thomas Chin

"I have really enjoyed the past two years being on the Halberg Youth Council. Promoting the Halberg Foundation and talking to other organisations, has given me more confidence and has enabled me to develop my leadership skills. My favourite memory was when we attended the New Zealand Youth Awards and listened to all the inspirational achievements of youth and also attending the Halberg Awards." Victoria Baldwin

Liam then competed at the 2017 Halberg Games in athletics where he was spotted by Para athletics coach Raylene Bates.

Notes to the Financial Statements

FOR THE YEAR ENDING 30 JUNE 2018

1. General information

Halberg Disability Sport Foundation (“the Foundation”) is a registered charity under the Charities Act 2005 and is domiciled in Auckland, New Zealand. The Foundation is a public benefit entity for the purposes of financial reporting in accordance with the Financial Reporting Act (2013).

The Halberg Disability Sport Foundation was set up in 1963 by Sir Murray Halberg for the benefit of children with disabilities. The purpose of the Foundation is to pay or apply in New Zealand the income and the capital of the Foundation in such amounts, at such times, and subject to such terms and conditions, as the Executive Board may decide for the benefit, education, advancement in life, or personal support in any way whatsoever of children with disabilities (including, without limitation, to enhance the lives of physically disabled younger New Zealanders by enabling them to participate in sport and recreation).

The Mission of the Foundation is to enhance the lives of physically disabled New Zealanders by enabling them to participate in sport and recreation.

2. Basis of preparation

(a) Statement of compliance

The information set out in these summary financial statements has been prepared in compliance with FRS 43: Summary Financial Statements, and extracted from the audited annual financial statements of the Halberg Disability Sport Foundation dated 28 September 2018. The annual financial statements dated 2 October 2018 have been prepared in accordance with Public Benefit Entity Accounting Standards Reduced Disclosure Requirements (“PBE Standards RDR”) as appropriate for Tier 2 not-for-profit public benefit entities.

Because of their summary nature, these Financial Statements cannot provide a full understanding of the financial performance, financial position and cash flows of Halberg Disability Sport Foundation. This understanding can only be obtained by reference to the audited annual financial statements of Halberg Disability Sport Foundation.

A copy of the full audited financial statements can be obtained from the Foundation’s website..

(b) Measurement basis

The financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis and are presented in New Zealand dollars.

(c) Use of judgements and estimates

The preparation of the financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected.

Judgements made in applying accounting policies that have had the most significant effects on the amounts recognised in the financial statements include the following:

- Revenue recognition – non-exchange revenue (conditions vs. restrictions)
- Whether there is control over an investee
- Whether the Foundation is acting as an agent of Sport NZ for lead agency funding received
- Whether the investment in Halberg Endowment Fund is impaired

For full financial statements and notes, please go to www.halberg.co.nz

The notes to the Financial Statements form part of and are to be read in conjunction with this statement.

Halberg Endowment Fund

Established in 2015 by the Executive Board of the Halberg Disability Sport Foundation, the Halberg Endowment Fund's purpose is to generate a long-term perpetual source of income for the Foundation. The Fund is a stand-alone charitable trust.

Closely aligned to the Halberg Disability Sport Foundation's vision, the mission of the Halberg Endowment Fund is to grow a capital fund to provide future income for the Foundation and, more specifically as outlined in the Deed, to provide financial assistance to or otherwise for the benefits, education, advancement or life or personal support in any way whatever of, individuals with disabilities in New Zealand (including, without limitation, to enhance the lives of physically disabled individuals in New Zealand by enabling such individuals to participate in sport and recreation).

The Fund's priorities are to accumulate funds, maximise investments and to respond to requests for funding.

Support

The Fund is delighted that the David Levene Foundation is a supporter of the Fund with its ongoing donation support. We are very grateful to this Foundation for its generosity.

New trustees

In the 2017-18 year, the Fund has welcomed three new trustees – Adrienne Olsen, Wellington; Keith Jackson, Auckland; and Richard Smith, Christchurch. They join the chairman, Michael Sidey and fellow trustee Rob Waddell. Pip Greenwood resigned as a trustee in late 2017; the Trustees thank Pip and acknowledge her legal expertise in helping establish the Fund.

Now with a full complement of Trustees spread over the country, plans are well underway to connect and engage throughout New Zealand in the coming year.

Canterbury Rotary Ball

The Halberg Foundation was extremely grateful to be named a charity recipient of the Mike Pero Real Estate Rotary Canterbury Children's Charity Ball which was held at the Wigram Airforce Museum in Christchurch in September 2017.

Our thanks to Christchurch Executive Board Member and Trustee, Bryan Andrews who played an integral role in the organisation of the black tie event along with the local Trustee group.

In May 2018 the Halberg Challenge took place at Spark Arena in Auckland. The fundraising event featured 46 teams of three competing in an indoor sports race. Each team member cycled, rowed or ran as far as they could for 20 minutes and were encouraged to fundraise for their efforts.

Congratulations to the winning team 'Blood, Sweat and Beers' with a collective distance of 26,215m. Our thanks to 'Team JBWere' for raising the most funds and Natalie Burrett who was the top individual fundraiser.

The Foundation would like to thank all the Halberg Challenge participants, volunteers and supporters along with; Buddle Findlay, Spark Arena, Cut Above Academy, Te Arahi Maipi, Luke Taplin, George Harper Jr, Concept 2, St Kentigerns School, Next Generation Auckland, Oceania, Rapid Relief Team, Rainbow Rascals, JUMP, Signopsys, Tony's Transport, Coca-Cola Amatil, Invacare, Boccia New Zealand, Flight Centre Foundation, Grant Marshall, Gabriella Gonzalez, Murry Sweetpants, Eliza McCartney, Z-Energy and Countdown for supporting the event.

Awesome People

AMY DUNN, WAIKATO

Since attending the Halberg Outward Bound course in 2017, 18 year old Amy Dunn has found a passion for disability sport and inclusion.

Amy has short stature and is currently studying at WINTEC, towards gaining qualification as an Occupational Therapist.

After a positive experience attending the Halberg Outward Bound Amy increased her involvement with the Foundation. She has since taken part in the Halberg Games, Raglan Surf Day, Halberg Challenge and the Waikato Sports Day.

Amy says that sport has given her many physical and mental benefits.

Halberg Senior Adviser Dave MacCalman admires Amy's passion for sport and for the Halberg programmes she supports.

BAILEY UNAHI, DUNEDIN

Bailey Unahi from Dunedin has become hooked on sit skiing after receiving a grant for lessons through the Halberg Activity Fund.

Bailey has a spinal cord injury and uses a wheelchair for mobility. The Otago Polytech student competed in wheelchair basketball at the Halberg Games in 2017.

“Having help from Halberg to contribute to my adaptive ski lessons has been life changing, I was able to get a taste of the sport and now I have become hooked,” says Bailey.

SAMANTHA BURGHAM, TARANAKI

Twenty year old Samantha Burgham from Taranaki is an avid wheelchair basketball player and has been supported by the Halberg Foundation on her sporting journey.

Samantha has cerebral palsy and uses a wheelchair for mobility.

With the support of the Halberg Foundation, Samantha was able to receive a new basketball wheelchair, which has been a great help with basketball training at her local club.

“I can maintain and improve my skills outside of the wheelchair basketball sessions, as opposed to only on a weekly basis.”

BUDDLE FINDLAY NET Sessions

Buddle Findlay and the Halberg Foundation identified an opportunity to showcase inclusion by the delivery of a modified Halberg NET Inclusion Training Course to the 'Buddle Findlay Graduate Programme'.

Halberg Advisers; James Glen, Dave MacCalman and Bridget Meyer, delivered the sessions to law graduates in Buddle Findlay's Auckland and Wellington offices.

The graduates were given a case study where they adapted and modified an experience based on the impairments of a young person. The graduates had to work together and think outside the box, to make inclusion possible.

Australian Open Surprise

Halberg Foundation partner Kia provided Joshua Wilmer and his family with an amazing Christmas surprise in December – a trip to the 2018 Australian Open.

The Halberg Foundation has supported Joshua to play tennis at his local club in Papakura which he continues to play with his family. He's competed twice at the Halberg Games previously winning triathlon and archery awards.

55th Halberg Awards nominee and 2017 French Open Doubles winner, Michael Venus and Halberg Ambassador, Te Arahi Maipi were on hand to provide the special surprise to the Wilmer family during a tennis training session in Auckland.

ISPS HANDA Partnership Announcement

In June 2018 the Halberg Foundation announced an exciting new partnership with the International Sports Promotion Society (ISPS Handa), during an event at Spark Arena – home of the Halberg Awards.

ISPS Handa is a global organisation, founded by Japanese philanthropist Dr Haruhisa Handa to support charitable causes throughout the sporting world. The partnership sees ISPS Handa become the exclusive title partner of the ISPS Handa Halberg Awards and the creation of scholarships for promising young physically disabled athletes.

ISPS Executive Director of International Affairs, Midori Miyazaki and ISPS Handa patron, Sir John Key spoke at the announcement along with Foundation Chief Executive, Shelley McMeeken.
